

10/7/2;020

In the Abstract:

Marked-up replacement paragraph for the Abstract:

-- A bandage with cooling capabilities for a user includes bandage support members and a flexible and leak proof cold pack member permanently attached and positioned between the support members. The cold pack member ~~may be~~includes a chemical which endothermically reacts with water, positioned adjacent to but separate from a water source inside a common package, to instantly cool the cold pack member upon activation. The cold pack member further comprises a sterile pad member positioned on the bottom side of the bandage, which may include an antibiotic, anesthetic, antipyretic, burn medicament, or combinations thereof. --